Sammamish Kennel Club President's Letter for the Barker 15 October 2006

The Nominating Committee has once again been formed and we are in the year end process of electing new officers and Board members for our Club. Most of the Premium Lists for the final shows of the year are out and some of us are trying to decide if we should enter them all, in hopes of finishing that title, or do we slow down for the Holidays and wait on that title until the new year. Thanksgiving plans are being made; Christmas parties are in the works. Where did the year go?

Nominations for Club officers and Board members will be accepted from the floor at our 8 November meeting. Please check the Standing Rules for eligibility of anyone that you would like to nominate. Club officers and Board members for 2007 will be elected at our 10 December meeting, prior to the start of our Christmas party. Since Bo and Doug have decided to remodel their kitchen, the party will be at either Patty or Jan's home this year. More information will be out soon.

Preparations for our 13 January show are going well. The Premium List will soon go to the printer. Muriel is attempting to wrap up all of the loose ends for our judges stay at the Best Western, along with planning the Judge's Welcome Banquet (to be held at the Best Western, Friday evening, 12 January). We have started to line up ring stewards. Rusty, our Chief Ring Steward, would appreciate hearing from anyone that would like to steward in the breed rings. If you are interested in stewarding for Obedience and Rally rings, please contact me. The Show Chair, Jan Leikam, says all is well.

Hope everyone has a very warm and happy Thanksgiving.

Respectfully,

Dee Carlson

OOPS ! WE LEFT SOMETHING OUT!!!

[con't from last month]

Gosh it looked so good as we were setting up the Motion. We thought we had covered all the bases, but during the discussion it came up we had forgotten to state the time and place where action was to take place. There are 3 ways this can be handled, we can go ahead and vote and vote it down and start all over, and sometimes things get so complicated that this is the wisest route to take. OR if the person is really quick and can intercept before the Chair has stated the motion, he/she can withdraw the motion or modify it without the permission of the assembly. But after the Chair repeats the motion it no longer belongs to the maker. So if the maker is not quick enough, and the motion has been stated by the Chair, and discussion is taking place the 3rd way, the option to amend the Motion to add the time and place and/or anything else we may have overlooked when the original motion was made can be moved. Now remember all this happens BEFORE the vote takes place not after. If you have already voted before it was realized that something was left out, NO PROBLEM! Vote and then make a new motion to cover what was left out. But if you are in that in between place before the vote, you make an amendment to correct the omission. There is no rule as to who should do the "amendment", but when you all decided the "time and place", it is stated: I move to amend the motion by adding the time, 6 PM, Mar, 14th and place, The Crab Cracker. There is a 2nd. The President then states, "It is moved and 2nd that we amend the motion by adding 6 PM Mar 14th at the Crab Cracker. If adopted the motion would read, to have an Awards Banquet, 6 PM, Mar 14th at the Crab Cracker. Is there any discussion?" Now we have a main motion and a primary amendment pending. What do we do now? Well we have to approve the amendment 1st, so a vote is taken on that. Then we add the amendment to the original motion and if we like the way it reads, vote on the entire motion. And it is done.

Robert's gives examples of amendments to the amendment! [again this is before the vote is taken] For example during the discussion on the amendment, exception is taken to the time and it is decided to change it to a later hour. So an amendment is made to the amendment that set the time. "I move that we strike out 6PM and insert 6:30PM". And it receives a 2nd. It is presented by the President as she did the 1st amendment and you proceed with discussion, and when you vote you start at the last amendment made and vote each up or down depending on how you feel they change the original motion. When done the original motion would read, I move that we hold an Awards Banquet at 6:30 PM, Mar 14th, at the Crab Cracker.

Wow my favorite place! I'll be there will you?

January Cluster

This year the January Show at Puyallup Fair Grounds is Saturday, January 13th, 2007. As usual, we will need Ring Stewards to "man" the 18 Conformation rings, and 4 or 5 Obedience Rings that are normally set up at that Show. As Dee stated in her President's report, if you like to Steward for Obedience or Rally, contact her. If Conformation is your interest contact me.
